
Bo Liu Biography 2014

Bo Liu is a student of College of Veterinary Medicine, Kansas State University. She received her bachelor degree from China Agriculture University, after which she came to the United States after and eventually enrolled into the veterinary medicine college Class of 2017.

Ms. Liu is a student with enthusiasm on diagnostic techniques and laboratory research. She worked in the Key Laboratory of Animal Epidemiology and Zoonosis of the Ministry of Agriculture, China, when she was in China. Also she has further experience in laboratory and diagnostic skills during her study at Dr. Jishu Shi's lab, Kansas State University. She currently resides in Manhattan, Kansas.